Industrial Automation Integrators (IAI) B.V. announces that the delivery of passport systems to Ukraine is delayed

On 15 November 2004 Industrial Automation Integrators (IAI) B.V. in Veldhoven, a subsidiary of DOCdata N.V. in Waalwijk, announced that they received an order for the supply of Passport-Personalisation-Systems to a country in Central Europe. At this moment, it can be announced that this country concerns Ukraine.

The customer of IAI for the supply of these systems to Ukraine has informed IAI that the originally agreed delivery schedule cannot be maintained and that the deliveries will therefore be delayed. This is the result of an investigation that has been ordered by the current President Yushchenko into agreements that have been closed in the final stage of the Presidency of the former President Kuchma.

IAI's customer expects that further developments will become clear within the coming months.
